

Downloadable Desktop Wallpaper Instructions

Downloading

When you click on the "Download" link you may be prompted to either "Save" or "Open" the compressed ZIP file you are downloading. Choose "Save" then select a location (such as your Pictures folder or Desktop) where you'll easily be able to locate it again.

Image Sizes

After you extract the ZIP file you will find a folder containing JPEG images of different sizes for various screen resolutions. Find out what your screen resolution is by going to your Display Settings (as detailed in the below section). Any image will work for your desktop wallpaper, but the correct size will look the best.

Extracting ZIP Files and Setting Image as Desktop Wallpaper

The ZIP file you download and save to your computer must be extracted or uncompressed before you can use the JPEG images for your desktop wallpaper display.

- Windows XP
 - Right click on the ZIP file you downloaded and select "Extract Here" OR "WinZip - Extract to Here"
 - Check your Display Settings so you know what file size to use: Right click anywhere on the desktop and select "Properties", click on "Settings" tab, your current screen resolution will be displayed in the bottom left. Use this number (for example: 800x600) when choosing the correct image size in the next step.
 - To set as wallpaper, right click the desktop and select "Properties", click on the "Desktop" tab, click "Browse" and locate the image you would like to use.
- Windows Vista
 - Right click on the ZIP file you downloaded and select "Extract Here" OR "WinZip - Extract to Here"
 - Check your Display Settings so you know what file size to use: Right click anywhere on the desktop and select "Personalize", click on "Display Settings", your current screen resolution will be displayed in the bottom left. Use this number (for example: 800x600) when choosing the correct image size in the next step.
 - To set as wallpaper, right click the desktop and select "Personalize", click on "Desktop Background", click "Browse" and locate the image you would like to use.
- Mac OS X
 - Double click on the ZIP file you downloaded and it will uncompress into the current folder.
 - Check your Display Settings so you know what file size to use: Click on Apple Menu - System Preferences..., click on "Displays", your screen resolution will be displayed in the Displays tab. Use this number (for example: 800x600) when choosing the correct image size in the next step.
 - To set as wallpaper, click on Apple Menu - System Preferences..., click on "Desktop & Screen Saver", click on "Desktop " tab, click on + button in lower left to add a location, navigate to the image you would like to use.
